WHOLE-FARM REVENUE PROTECTION

Crop Insurance for Growers

At the end of the day, it comes down to revenue: the money you earn from the sale of your crops. Whole-Farm Revenue Protection (WFRP) is an insurance policy that safeguards all the crops you grow. This plan helps to fill in the gaps that previously existed in crop insurance.

WFRP protects against loss of revenue due to any weather-related crop damage. In addition, it provides protection against loss of revenue due to market price decline. More importantly, these coverages are continuous from year to year.

Our knowledge and experience can help you better understand how this plan can protect your bottom line.

WHOLE-FARM REVENUE PROTECTION

Loss Example

WFRP

Revenue, Expense, and Coverage Level

- Average farm revenue = $1,300,000
- Average expenses = $650,000
- Coverage level = 75%
- Actual revenue = $750,000

Loss Calculation

$$1,300,000 \times .75 \text{ coverage level} = $975,000 \text{ insured revenue}$

$$975,000 - $750,000 \text{ actual revenue} = $225,000 \text{ payable loss}$

Expanding Farm Operation

If a farm has been expanding over the past few years, the expected revenue to insure can be higher than its historical average. WFRP provides an indexing factor as well as an expansion factor in these types of scenarios to better match the projected revenue to be insured.
